Multi-million dollar gift creates unique program at Toronto Western Hospital

Thanks to a multi-million dollar donation from Barrick Gold Corporation and Vera Wilkins, wife of Greg Wilkins, former CEO of Barrick, Toronto Western Hospital will play a role in improving surgical care for neurological conditions in developing countries.

In December 2009, Mr. Wilkins succumbed to brain cancer at 53 years of age. His courageous battle brought him to TWH, where he underwent brain surgery performed by Dr. Mark Bernstein.

The $5.5 million donation in honour of Greg's memory will be a lasting legacy to a great Canadian business leader.

“If ever there was a man, who, in a relatively short period of time in private enterprise, in a relatively small country like Canada, has done more, for more people, in more countries from more walks of life than Greg, I am not aware of it,” said Peter Munk. “His integrity was like a shining beacon representing Canada and Canada’s fundamental values.”

June 23 marked the official opening of The Barrick Gold Corporation Centre for International Outreach, the naming of the Gregory C. Wilkins Centre for Excellence in Neuro-Oncology at TWH and named Dr. Mark Bernstein as the inaugural holder of The Greg Wilkins – Barrick Chair in International Surgery.

Dr. Bernstein specializes in neuro-oncology, and is a world-leader in the removal of brain tumours. In 1996, he performed the first-ever awake-outpatient craniotomy – now the most common type of surgery to remove a tumour.

Over the past eight years, Dr. Bernstein has carried out over 15 international missions to help bring surgical skills and training to communities in need.

“We are happy and honoured that Dr. Bernstein will play a part in carrying on Greg's legacy by improving the health and lives of people in need,” said Vera Wilkins.
Stem Cell City – welcoming the future of medicine, today

On June 16, the McEwen Centre for Regenerative Medicine invited the public to join Stem Cell City, a virtual community that illuminates the life-saving potential of regenerative medicine and allows individuals to articulate their support for regenerative medicine.

Members of the Stem Cell City community will be the first to learn about the latest life-saving breakthroughs by McEwen Centre investigators, such as Dr. John Dick’s recent discovery of a “pure” human blood stem cell, a major step forward in treating cancers and other debilitating diseases.

The launch event, held in the MaRS Discovery District, was attended by Premier Dalton McGuinty, Rob and Cheryl McEwen, founders of the McEwen Centre, Dr. Gordon Keller, Director of the McEwen Centre, Dr. Bob Bell, President and CEO of UHN, Robert Klein, California Institute for Regenerative Medicine Chairman, and Lisa Ray, patient advocate, model, actor and stem cell transplant recipient, along with hundreds of stem cell researchers and research supporters.

Prior to the event, the Premier took a behind-the-scenes tour of the McEwen Centre, peering down microscopes to witness beating heart cells created in the lab from stem cells. The Premier remarked that the quest to harness the power of stem cells “gives wonderful expression to that noble human desire to help each other…What seems impossible now will be commonplace tomorrow.”

The launch of Stem Cell City coincided with the International Society for Stem Cell Research’s 9th Annual Meeting co-hosted by the McEwen Centre, which drew 4,000 of the world’s leading stem cell researchers.

A related event took place in April bringing together supporters of the McEwen Centre at the Windsor Arms Hotel. Hosts Rob and Cheryl McEwen welcomed guests as the first citizens of Stem Cell City. At the event, Dr. Keller explained the McEwen Centre’s unique funding model called Accelerated Discoveries, which allows donors to support a specific research project, for a specific time frame, pushing scientific breakthrough further and faster than traditional research approaches.

Lundbeck Canada invests in advanced depression research at UHN

Mood disorders are a serious and growing burden on Canadians and the Canadian health care system. Direct and indirect costs associated with mental illness in Canada are an estimated $51 billion per year. Vital partnerships between UHN and the private sector are providing hope in addressing this growing challenge.

In one such partnership, Lundbeck Canada, a research-based company located in Montreal, and part of the Canadian pharmaceutical industry for 15 years, recently made a landmark donation of $2.7 million to support research under the direction of Dr. Sidney Kennedy, Psychiatrist-in-Chief of UHN. Dr. Kennedy’s team is studying biomarkers to enhance the diagnosis and treatment of patients suffering from major depression.

Biomarkers play an important role in determining whether a patient has, or is likely to develop, a certain disease, how a patient will respond to a treatment, and which treatment is best for that patient. The funding provided by Lundbeck Canada will help establish the Canadian Depression Biomarker Network, a Canada-wide research consortium involving eight academic centres across the country.

“We believe in advancing the highest quality research, and, as such, we are proud to support Dr. Sidney Kennedy and his team at UHN,” said Patrick J. Cashman, President of Lundbeck Canada.

The Canadian Depression Biomarker Network will conduct a Canada-wide research project in which detailed clinical, neuroimaging, genetic and molecular data will be collected from people with depression, and analyzed using complex bioinformatic techniques. This represents a revolutionary approach to the treatment of depression.

“Research into depression has revealed many outstanding advances in the areas of brain function, molecular biology and genetics,” said Dr. Kennedy. “Lundbeck Canada’s investment will help as we strive to offer a more ‘personalized medicine’ approach.”
A legacy of support for Parkinson’s disease

Over the last decade, the Edmond J. Safra Philanthropic Foundation has made many remarkable contributions to Parkinson’s disease research at the Krembil Neuroscience Centre and the University of Toronto. As a gesture to publicly acknowledge this support, the Krembil Neuroscience Centre has named the Edmond J. Safra Program in Parkinson’s Disease in memory of Mr. Safra.

The Edmond J. Safra Foundation has developed a significant portfolio of Parkinson’s disease research and patient care projects at many of the world’s leading universities. The Foundation decided to support Toronto Western Hospital because of the leadership of Dr. Anthony Lang, who is the top cited Parkinson’s disease researcher in the world.

The Edmond J. Safra Fellowship Program in Parkinson’s Disease Research supports two senior faculty members on the Parkinson’s team, and, most recently, the purchase of neuroimaging equipment, including a PET scan machine, used to help identify abnormalities in brain function.

“On behalf of the entire Parkinson’s disease team, we are extremely grateful to the Edmond J. Safra Foundation for the extraordinary research opportunities afforded to us over the past 10 years,” said Dr. Lang. “With its ongoing support, I know we can continue to unlock the mysteries of Parkinson’s disease.”

Lily Safra, Chairwoman of the Edmond J. Safra Foundation, said: “It is a privilege to be able to help this exceptional research team build on its successes, and I am grateful to our friend Tony Lang for his leadership. My husband would certainly have been very proud to see his name attached to such groundbreaking and promising work, which provides hope to so many families around the world suffering with this terrible disease.”

The Edmond J. Safra Philanthropic Foundation was established in 1999 by the late Edmond J. Safra, a well-known international banker and philanthropist. The Foundation supports a number of causes in over 40 countries around the world.

World First – Drs. Douglas Bradley (left) and John Floras (right) treat sleep apnea in patients with heart failure with the Continuous Positive Airway Pressure (CPAP) machine, a mechanical assist device that reduces morbidity and mortality.

Sleep Country’s investment in sleep promises superior health

After a hard day, nothing beats a good night’s sleep. But what if – no matter how hard you have worked – sleep is impossible to come by? This is the dilemma faced by an estimated five million Canadians who are afflicted with sleep issues and the health risks associated with them.

Sleep Country Canada has generously donated $1.7 million to help meet this problem head on. In partnership with UHN’s Centre for Sleep Health and Research, Sleep Country’s gift includes facility upgrades and fellowship support in the new Sleep Country Canada Sleep Medicine Labs at Toronto General Hospital. In addition, there is funding support for educational initiatives on sleep health via radio public service announcements, and development of an educational website.

An unveiling ceremony of the labs was held in March to showcase the new technology that will ensure sleep specialists can better research, diagnose and treat sleep disorders. In addition to top-quality mattresses provided by Sleep Country Canada, corporate partner Embla has supported the labs with state-of-the-art equipment, and Fuse Media has helped refurbish the rooms.

UHN’s Centre for Sleep Health and Research has the only lab space in Ontario that accurately evaluates and treats heart disease patients who are afflicted with sleep apnea, as well as other breathing disorders of sleep.

Of the 500,000 Canadians living with heart failure, the majority are not assessed for the diagnosis of sleep apnea and – as a result – are not being treated for it. Addressing this problem, specialized lab equipment monitors blood pressure, cardiac output and carbon dioxide during sleep.

“Most people assume sleep is a calm and recuperative time for the entire body, but for those with sleep apnea, this may not be the case,” says Dr. Douglas Bradley, Director of the Sleep Country Canada Sleep Medicine Labs.

It is as though the heart is involved in running a marathon during the night. Instead of allowing the heart to recover some of its function during sleep, sleep apnea can actually cause heart function to deteriorate.

Donors honoured at surgical suite launch

Honouring the generosity of some of our top donors and a leap forward in surgery, a special dedication for the Menkes Family Interventional Thoracic Surgery Suite was hosted in April 2011.

Giving new hope to patients too sick to undergo traditional surgery, the state-of-the-art Suite provides access to leading-edge – and lifesaving – minimally invasive surgical treatments. Working in this one-of-a-kind environment, surgeons can perform sophisticated procedures that mean less pain and trauma for patients, shorter hospital stays and more efficient care.

Among the specific advances provided by the Suite’s groundbreaking technology are: reducing the timeline of the detection, diagnosis and treatment of lung diseases from months to hours; eliminating tumours and cancerous cells without radiation; and detecting disease and developing minimally invasive interventions for patients who are otherwise unable to undergo surgery.

After a tour of the Suite led by world-renowned thoracic surgeon Dr. Kazuhiro Yasufuku, UHN leaders spoke to the generosity of the Menkes Family and other donors, and how the Suite will transform patient care.

“Beyond the direct impact of your support that we have seen today, the example the Menkes Family sets in our community demonstrates the role philanthropy can play in improving people’s lives and in turn, inspires others to give,” said Tennys Hanson, President and CEO of Toronto General & Western Hospital Foundation. “For this, we are tremendously grateful.”

In addition to the Menkes Family’s gift of $1 million, other philanthropists who have made the Suite possible include the Albert & Temmy Latner Family Foundation with a matching $1 million gift, and Michael Cooper, who generously donated $250,000.

“Our family is privileged to play a part in delivering this exceptional care,” said Alan Menkes. “We look forward to the years to come, and hearing of the many life-changing discoveries led by Dr. Yasufuku and his team that will unfold in the Suite.”
The Brain Campaign, a $200 million campaign to support research and innovation at the Krembil Neuroscience Centre, is gearing up.

"Now that construction of the Krembil Tower is well underway, we need to support the scientists that will be moving in," said Brain Campaign Co-Chair Todd Halpern. He and Co-Chair Gerry Halbert have recruited a motivated Campaign Cabinet.

The University of Toronto is joining the campaign to fundraise for the Tanz Centre for Research in Neurodegenerative Disease, which will be located in the new Krembil Discovery Tower.

A major focus of the Brain Campaign is on raising funds to support research in diseases of the aging: neurodegenerative diseases such as Alzheimer’s, Parkinson’s, neuromuscular disease, stroke, spinal cord injuries, epilepsy and eye disease.

Diseases of the brain are poised to be a major public health threat. As death rates for heart disease and certain types of cancer go down, disability and death rates from neurological disease are on the rise.

"The Brain Campaign is the next step," says UHN President and CEO Dr. Bob Bell. "We’ve already made tremendous progress with the Krembil Discovery Tower campaign. Now we need to provide our scientists with the tools, labs and support they need."

Included in the Brain Campaign is a $60 million project to renovate surgical facilities at Toronto Western Hospital. These facilities have not seen significant updates in more than 20 years. Surgical redevelopment promises to address this issue, revamping older space to build advanced surgical suites that will provide the necessary space and equipment for the neuroscience specialists.

While still in its “quiet phase”, the Brain Campaign has made significant progress, having just reached the $100 million mark on its $200 million goal.

Supporting the work of cardiac stars such as Dr. Tirone David, the $25 million From the Heart campaign is launched.

The Krembil Family Foundation – outstanding leadership

In 1997, Robert and Linda Krembil founded the Krembil Foundation with a mandate to help people through medical research, education and social services. In just over a decade, the Foundation has become a philanthropic leader in Toronto, supporting causes that span health care, education and the arts at the local, provincial and national levels. The Foundation’s impact is perhaps most apparent at UHN, particularly, the Toronto Western Hospital.

In 1998, the Krembil Foundation, whose leadership includes son Mark and daughter-in-law Stacey, established the Krembil Family Chair in Neurology at TWH. Since that initial gift, the Foundation has committed in excess of $50 million in support of various research, patient care and capital projects at the hospital, including spinal cord research by Dr. Michael Fehlings, Parkinson’s disease research by Dr. Jonathan Brotchie and autoimmune disorder research by Dr. Dafna Gladman.

Today, the Krembil Neuroscience Centre is Canada’s leading clinical, research and teaching facility for spinal cord injury, stroke and neurovascular disorders, eye disease, neurodegenerative disorders such as Parkinson’s and Alzheimer’s, neuro-oncology and epilepsy.

Robert and Linda lead by example and in 2008, they pledged $30 million for the construction of a new research tower at the Toronto Western site. The Krembils committed the $30 million – 50 per cent of the total private funding required – on the condition that the remaining $30 million would be raised from other donors.

By 2010, over $31 million from private donors was raised due in large part to the attachment of the Krembil name to the campaign. Scheduled for completion in 2013, the Krembil Discovery Tower will advance research in all areas of neuroscience, with a focus on neurodegenerative diseases.

“The brain is really the last frontier in medicine,” says Bob Krembil. “That is what drew us to supporting neuroscience research at Toronto Western Hospital, and the breakthroughs we have seen have been fantastic.”
New board champion prepares major campaign for heart

It has been a busy year for Jeffrey Rubinstein: not only did he complete his first year as a TG&WHF Board Member, but he also stepped forward to serve as Board Champion for the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre.

In his new role, he has begun planning a $100 million campaign themed, “Building the Future” which will help build Centres of Excellence in cardiac and vascular care.

Jeff and Honey Rubenstein have been generous benefactors to UHN, having supported the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre, the Krembil Neuroscience Centre and Grand Cru over the past 11 years. Jeff was inspired to support the Centre after his father, Max, had been a patient. Jeff and Honey have supported many priorities, including the Mechanical Heart Program, cardiovascular surgical equipment fund, and the Dr. Tirone David Chair in Advanced Cardiac Therapeutics.

Jeff will co-chair the campaign with fellow Toronto businessman and Peter Munk Cardiac Centre supporter, Robert Lawrie. They will be supported by a 12-member campaign cabinet represented by Toronto’s corporate leaders.

“I look forward to working with the Centre’s medical leadership and supporting them so we can ensure the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre remains the best cardiac centre in North America,” says Jeff.

A primary focus of the campaign is building and sustaining its greatest strength: people. This exceptional team of specialists is responsible for the emergence of extraordinary medical discoveries and the development of new and innovative treatments for heart diseases and disorders.

Dr. Barry Rubin, Program Medical Director of the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre, believes the potential for the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre is unlimited.

“This Campaign will help the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre to move cardiovascular care in innovative new directions and to continue to deliver the best patient outcomes in the world. With the help of our donors, the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre will lead the way in these new frontiers of cardiovascular patient care, and will also lead the way in the dissemination of this knowledge worldwide.”

After a $5 million gift from Peter and Melanie Munk, the Toronto Hospital’s Cardiac Centre is renamed the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre.

The Spark of Life campaign is launched to raise $21 million from the private sector to further develop life-saving procedures at the Neuroscience Centre.

From their first donation in 1993 to today, Peter and Melanie Munk have transformed Toronto General Hospital.

Peter and Melanie Munk ‘in a heart beat’

The Peter Munk Cardiac Centre is recognized today as the best in Canada and known beyond our borders for its innovative research, passion for excellence and exceptional patient care. It was less than two decades ago that Peter and Melanie Munk made the lead $5 million gift to UHN’s Cardiac Centre Campaign to launch the aspirational vision that got us here.

Since 1993, the Munks have donated more than $40 million as the Centre has continued to make progress, pioneer and establish breakthroughs in cardiac health care.

The Munks’ generosity kick started fundraising success with every campaign surpassing its goal and their continued involvement helped leverage support from other like-minded individuals, foundations, the private sector and government such as the Ontario Ministry of Health.

In 2001 for example, UHN launched the Together We Make Life Better campaign. Peter and Melanie served as Honorary Co-Chairs of the Heart and Circulation effort, which had a goal of $100 million and pulled in more than $107 million. In 2010, Peter and Melanie were instrumental in establishing the Peter Munk Medical Imaging Centre, which will change the way cardiac conditions are identified and treated.

“Given the care that my grandfather, father, uncle and I have all received here, it didn’t take much more than a heart beat for Melanie and I to support UHN and encourage others to give to this world-class facility,” said Peter Munk. He added that “one of the greatest pleasures I receive today are letters and phone calls from patients and their families about the excellence of care received at the Centre. We will carry on with our support.”

Bryce Douglas and Tony Fell are teaming up again to lead the Campaign to Cure Arthritis.

Long-time UHN supporters, Bryce Douglas and Tony Fell have stepped forward to co-chair the Campaign to Cure Arthritis. In doing so, each has also pledged a transformative gift.

Together with his wife, Nicki, Bryce has given a gift of $2 million to establish the Nicki and Bryce Douglas Chair in Orthopaedic Surgery. The Chair will be held by the Head of the Division of Orthopaedic Surgery, Dr. Nizar Mahomed, and will support orthopaedic research, surgery and clinical care.

Tony and his wife Shari Fell have committed $3 million to support the research that strives to make hip, knee and other joint replacements a thing of the past. This research aims to pinpoint biomarkers that will aid in early diagnosis, develop alternative treatments and ensure that prevention methods are in place.

The goal of the Campaign to Cure Arthritis is to raise $25 million in support of initiatives that benefit the Arthritis Program at Toronto Western Hospital.

“This Campaign is about fostering research currently underway that is focused on making hip, knee and other joint replacements a thing of the past,” says Bryce. “With an all-out effort and systematic approach to arthritis research we can make this happen.”

Adds Tony: “Across Canada, surgeons conduct over 100,000 joint replacements annually. In addition to the immeasurable pain and suffering arthritis causes the individual sufferers, it also costs the Canadian economy billions of dollars every year. Finding ways to cure joints without replacing them would be a huge breakthrough.”

Bryce and Tony have a history of success working together on major campaigns. In 2001, they helped lead the Together We Make Life Better Campaign, the first major fundraising initiative benefitting UHN. At that time, it was the largest hospital campaign in Canadian history, raising over $554 million for programs that span the spectrum of care, research and education at UHN.

Over 4.5 million Canadians are affected by arthritis with osteoarthritis being the third leading cause of disability in Canada. Over $21 billion is spent on arthritis care.
Chrysalis Affair honours Dr. Murray Urowitz

The Chrysalis Affair took place at the Four Seasons Hotel on April 2 and served as a tribute to recognize the many accomplishments of Dr. Murray Urowitz in the field of lupus research and education. Proceeds of over $125,000 from the evening will support the Dr. Murray B. Urowitz Fellowships in Lupus Research.

Lupus, an autoimmune disease that affects more than 50,000 Canadians, belongs in the family of diseases that includes rheumatoid arthritis, multiple sclerosis, juvenile diabetes and scleroderma. Dr. Urowitz is Director of the Lupus Clinic at TWH, one of the largest such clinics in the world caring for more than 1,500 patients.

“Dr. Urowitz is a pioneer in the field of lupus care and research,” said Dr. Nizar Mahomed, Medical Director, Arthritis Program at TWH. “Not only is he an exceptional researcher and mentor to countless rheumatology trainees and medical students, he is a wonderful care provider, who exemplifies the best qualities in a physician.”

Orthopaedic surgeons contribute to Arthritis Campaign

In a show of commitment to the cause, the surgeons in the Division of Orthopaedic Surgery at Toronto Western Hospital have collectively pledged $1.25 million toward the Arthritis Campaign. The focus of their support is to uncover the mysteries of diseases such as osteoarthritis by studying its origin and progression systematically.

“Right now, joint replacement is the only option for patients suffering from end stage osteoarthritis. Ultimately, we want to be able to offer our patients the ability to prevent arthritis and offer new treatment options,” says Dr. Nizar Mahomed, Medical Director, Arthritis Program & Head, Division of Orthopaedic Surgery at TWH.

“Under Dr. Mahomed’s leadership, the Arthritis Program has adopted a vision to find a cure for arthritis and a mission to create a world leading centre for the research and clinical care of the disease. A world-first research platform is being developed that will allow for the systematic study of differences and similarities of both osteoarthritis and inflammatory arthritis.”

Thanks to the generosity of Robert and Linda Krembil, Toronto Western Hospital celebrates the opening of the Krembil Neuroscience Centre.

UHN launches the largest hospital fundraising campaign in Canada: Together We Make Life Better, which raises $554 million by 2006.
Bruce Birmingham Fund – Providing hope for transplant patients

Bruce Birmingham was a respected businessman, colleague and friend. Before retiring in 2002, he was instrumental to the international expansion of Scotiabank during his distinguished 30-year career. Beyond the business world, Bruce was a dedicated family man and passionate about supporting causes that made life better for all Canadians.

In 2010, shortly after a successful liver transplant at Toronto General Hospital, Bruce lost his courageous battle with his illness. He is tremendously missed by family, friends and colleagues alike.

Through a leadership gift of $1 million from the Birmingham family, together with almost $100,000 contributed by Scotiabank employees to date, the Bruce Birmingham Tribute Fund honours Bruce’s strong belief that the greatest donation is the gift of life. Fundraising efforts continue, with the goal of naming the Bruce Birmingham Transplant In-Patient Unit within UHN’s Multi-Organ Transplant Program. The Centre will serve as a state-of-the-art facility for our transplant surgeons and researchers, and a recuperative space for patients and their families.

Founded in 1991, UHN’s Multi-Organ Transplant Program has grown to become the largest program in Canada and the sixth largest in North America.

Currently, the program saves the lives of nearly 400 individuals every year and provides ongoing care to over 3,000 transplant recipients. It is anticipated that transplantation needs will double and potentially triple in the next five years. The program treats the most complex and highest acuity transplant patients, and our high standard of care rivals any other program of its kind in the world.

“Bruce would be proud of having his name attached to such an important cause,” said Betty Birmingham, Bruce’s widow. “Bruce was as driven about his philanthropy as he was about his work. He had a warm heart, and a great generosity towards doing what he could to make people’s lives better.”

Funds derived from the Tribute will help drive the clinical, research and educational ambitions of the Multi-Organ Transplant Program, improving long-term outcomes for patients.

Sydney and Florence Cooper Foundation outfits MIS Operating Room

To enhance leading-edge surgical facilities at UHN, the Sydney and Florence Cooper Foundation has made a gift of $300,000 to outfit an operating room with Minimally Invasive Surgical (MIS) technology. Performed through tiny incisions that require only a stitch or two to close, MIS procedures reduce trauma and post-operative pain, shortening hospital stays and improving patient recovery. Thanks to the Cooper Foundation, Operating Room 7 at Toronto General Hospital is now dedicated exclusively to MIS, and is allowing our world-leading thoracic surgeons to more effectively treat patients.

Celebrating a silver anniversary this past year was Dr. Gary Levy, Medical Director of University Health Network’s Multi-Organ Transplant Program. In 1986, Dr. Levy joined Toronto General Hospital where he founded the Liver Transplant Unit. He served as the Unit’s Co-Director until 1990 when he was appointed Director of the newly-formed Multi-Organ Transplant Program.

With Dr. Levy at the helm, the Program has emerged as an internationally-renowned centre of excellence. In 2009, he was appointed Founding Director of the University of Toronto Transplantation Institute. Today, Dr. Levy continues to play a transformative role in growing the Program into Canada’s first and the world’s foremost transplantation institute. Under his direction, a number of world firsts have since become routine procedures.

“From the time he joined Toronto General Hospital, Gary has been the heart and soul of the Transplant Program,” says former UHN Surgeon-in-Chief Dr. Bryce Taylor. “He’s the reason for its success.”

Matching gift creates international centre for telesimulation and innovation in medical education

With a generous commitment from the Temerty Family Foundation and a matching gift from the Chang Family, UHN has created the world’s first international telesimulation centre in medical education.

The telesimulation program was developed in 2007 by Dr. Allan Okrainec, Deputy Head, Division of General Surgery at UHN, in response to the need to expand laparoscopic surgery training opportunities for surgeons in developing countries. Telesimulation uses surgical simulators in the trainee’s location connected through the internet to Dr. Okrainec’s lab in Toronto.

“We are grateful to the Temerty Family Foundation and to Ray Chang and his family for their generosity and support of our goal to make a significant contribution towards improving global health,” says Dr. Okrainec. “We are now positioned to expand our laparoscopic surgery telesimulation sessions and broaden our training programs to include other essential medical skills.”

For patients, laparoscopic surgery is a desirable alternative to open surgery: it has a lower risk for infection and bleeding and recovery is much faster. Unfortunately, many surgeons in resource-poor countries cannot offer this treatment option because training in laparoscopic procedures is unavailable or limited locally. Telesimulation addresses this challenge by enabling surgeons to access one-on-one instruction and coaching from UHN using telecommunication technology. The program has to-date been successful in training over 100 surgeons in laparoscopic surgery in countries such as Botswana, Rwanda, Ghana, Colombia, Peru, Guyana, Jamaica and Ukraine.

The Temerty Family Foundation’s $2.5 million gift, which was matched by the Chang Family, will enable the Centre to offer training sessions in more countries and develop training curriculum in high priority areas such as maternal and newborn health.
VitalAire Canada Fellowship helping patients breathe easier

Responding to the growing health threat of Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD), VitalAire Canada has dedicated $120,000 towards a two-year clinical research fellowship. With GlaxoSmithKline’s matching gift, the fellowship’s goal is to evaluate effective strategies for supporting COPD patients after their discharge, and prepare them for rehabilitation.

A combination of bronchitis and emphysema, COPD is now the fourth leading cause of death in Canada. As there is no cure, symptom management is essential.

Fulfilling salary and material costs, the VitalAire Fellowship in COPD Home Care promises to reduce the number and severity of COPD symptoms, thereby decreasing patients’ hospital visits and length of stays.

Thomson Chair in Thoracic Research – giving life with breath

Lung cancer is a particularly lethal cancer because it is often only detected in the advanced stages of development. To help give people a fighting chance, Heather and Richard Thomson have established a Chair in Thoracic Translational Research to support the work of the inaugural Chairholder, Dr. Tom Waddell, Head, Division of Thoracic Surgery at UHN, and Scientist at the McEwen Centre for Regenerative Medicine.

Home to the premier lung cancer program in Canada, the Division of Thoracic Surgery is the global leader in the treatment of advanced lung diseases, and has pioneered many world firsts.

Thanks to the Thomsons, Dr. Waddell is making significant progress in his work to identify lung cancer stem cells, the cells responsible for tumour development. This could help provide the basis for developing more advanced screening processes and greatly improve our ability to identify and treat lung cancer at its earliest, most treatable stages.

Mr. and Mrs. George Eaton establish breast reconstruction program

Following a long and rewarding relationship with Toronto General & Western Hospital Foundation, Mr. and Mrs. George Eaton have committed $1 million to establish the Toronto Downtown Immediate Breast Reconstruction (IBR) Program.

Breast reconstruction has proved to have a hugely positive effect on the well-being of women afflicted with breast cancer, but has been an underused option in breast cancer management. In addition, many women do not receive adequate discussion of the different surgical treatments, or achieve their preferred level of participation in the decision-making process.

With their transformational gift to Dr. Stefan Hofer and Dr. David McCready, program development will improve access to breast reconstruction surgery for women across Ontario, while giving them a detailed understanding of the process. The program will also allow further research into breast reconstruction outcomes as related to quality of life and the advancement of new techniques.

Boehringer Ingelheim becomes a Partner for Discovery

In recognition of Boehringer Ingelheim (Canada) Ltd’s support of University Health Network, a celebration was held to welcome the pharmaceutical company to the Partners for Discovery Society, honouring TG&WHF donors who have contributed $1 million or more. Boehringer Ingelheim Canada is supporting UHN’s Centre for Innovation and Complex Care and the Innovate Afib Project. “On behalf of UHN, I would like to thank Boehringer Ingelheim for supporting improved care of atrial fibrillation – the most frequently encountered arrhythmia for which patients are admitted to the hospital,” said UHN President and CEO Dr. Bob Bell.

Dr. Ted Witek, President and CEO of Boehringer Ingelheim (Canada) Ltd, graciously accepted a commemorative print on the company’s behalf.
This year’s recipients of the Nursing & Professional Services Staff Scholarships & Awards celebrate their achievements.

2011 nursing awards recognize excellence

A total of 56 awards and scholarships were presented at the 2011 Annual Nursing & Professional Services Staff Scholarships & Awards event. The award program continues to grow thanks to the generosity of donors.

Two long-term donors were honoured at this year’s event with a special presentation of Upper Canada Medals to The Frank Gerstein Charitable Foundation; and The Alumnae Association of the School of Nursing, Toronto General Hospital. Also, Mr. Mark Lichtblau, whose family created the Fela and Saul Lichtblau Nursing Scholarship, expressed their appreciation for the dedication and compassionate care of UHN’s nurses.

Donor support enriches training opportunities for diabetes researchers

With the generous support of donors for the Clinician Scientist Training Program, UHN’s Division of Endocrinology and Metabolism has greater capacity to support accomplished endocrinologists like Dr. Cynthia Luk. The Program provides opportunities to mentor and ensures protected research time to prepare the next generation of leaders in diabetes research.

With both of her parents afflicted with type 2 diabetes, Dr. Luk has had a lifelong passion to understand the disease. Dr. Luk is investigating the pathophysiology of diabetes, obesity and metabolic syndrome.

TG&WHF donor, Mr. Keith Ray, is committed to supporting this Program which will help combat the growing health threat represented by diabetes.

“I was impressed with the advances in research conducted by scientists like Dr. Luk,” says Mr. Ray. “I think work like this is an important step towards preventing or even curing diabetes.”

Dr. Gary Lewis, Director of the Division of Endocrinology and Metabolism at the University of Toronto, leads innovative research at UHN exploring the causes of diabetes. Clinician-scientists – endocrinologists who also focus on research – play a crucial role in translating new scientific discoveries into effective treatments.

Bryce Douglas leaves a lasting legacy at the end of his term as Chair of the Foundation, making TG&WHF one the most successful Foundations in Canada.
Surgeons raise funds for Chair honouring legendary leaders

UHN’s thoracic surgeons have pledged $250,000 in support of the Pearson-Ginsberg Chair in Thoracic Surgery through TG&WHF’s Cornerstone Campaign.

The late Dr. Robert J. Ginsberg was a leader in thoracic surgery both internationally and at UHN, serving as Chief of Thoracic Surgery at Toronto General Hospital. It was Dr. Ginsberg’s vision to create an endowed chair named in honour of his mentor and colleague – Dr. Griffith Pearson.

Dr. Pearson was a pioneer in thoracic surgery at UHN, leading the creation of the first Thoracic Surgical Service at TGH in 1966.

A total of six thoracic surgeons pledged support to the Chair, and were one of the first physician groups to participate collectively in the Cornerstone Campaign. The surgeons’ commitment is a notable example of the generosity demonstrated by over 2,000 staff members, physicians and surgeons who participate in the Campaign.

Second annual radiothon raises over $100,000

TG&WHF’s second annual on-site radiothon surpassed its $75,000 goal by raising approximately $110,000 for the Chinese Community Health Fund.

The March 3 event transformed the atrium at Toronto Western Hospital into a non-stop party and featured on-air celebrities from Fairchild Radio Canada and volunteers from UHN. Funds raised from the event support patient education initiatives, translation services and other programs that serve Toronto’s Chinese population. The goal of the broadcast was also to increase awareness within the Chinese community of the services offered by UHN. More than 1,200 phone, walk-in, text and online gifts were received during the radiothon.
Glaucoma research a focus for CB Richard Ellis

Real estate leader CB Richard Ellis Limited (CBRE) held its second Annual Toronto Charity Golf Classic to support glaucoma research at the Donald K. Johnson Eye Centre, Toronto Western Hospital.

Hosted by CBRE’s Global Corporate Services Division, the tournament was held in June at the Angus Glen Golf and Country Club in Markham. Over 300 clients and friends within the real estate industry participated in addition to the support received from over 100 corporate sponsors.

CBRE’s contribution is part of a larger campaign to fund the Graham Trope Chair in Glaucoma Research. Thanks to fundraising efforts spearheaded by Toronto General & Western Hospital Foundation Board Member Donald K. Johnson and bolstered by CBRE’s efforts, over $2.1 million has been raised to support the creation of the Chair.

Recognizing a long-time Board member and champion: Fraser M. Fell

In 1986, Fraser Fell was an integral part of UHN history when, as Chair of the Board for Toronto Western Hospital, he became one of the first Board members of the newly created Toronto General & Western Hospital Foundation. Since then, Fraser has served on fundraising campaigns benefitting the Spark of Life Campaign and Peter Munk Cardiac Centre. To this day, Fraser remains a Foundation Board member and a fundraising champion for TWH.

On May 24, family, friends and former Board Members gathered at the York Club to honour his volunteer accomplishments.

Now his name appears on the public face of the Fell Pavilion at TWH.

Board Chair John Warren remarked, “Fraser’s integrity, corporate expertise, and network of friends laid the groundwork for the Foundation as we know it today.”

Peter and Melanie Munk donate $30 million to boost the development of the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre. This unprecedented gift brings the total funds raised for UHN’s Together We Make Life Better campaign to $554 million.
In a tradition of giving back to the hospital that spans more than two decades, the Elliott family continues its relationship with Toronto General & Western Hospital Foundation. The late R. Fraser Elliott’s leadership is recognized through the naming of several areas within the hospital, including the building housing our Foundation offices, Emergency Centre at Toronto General Hospital and the Multi-Purpose Operating Room.

The Fraser Elliott Foundation also funded the renovation of the R. Fraser Elliott Dialysis Centre to create a more accessible and patient-centred facility that can accommodate the growing number of dialysis patients suffering from end-stage kidney disease.

The Elliott family has taken on another fundraising initiative. Recently, the Colours of Life campaign was established by Adrian Elliott, Mr. Elliott’s daughter, and artist Jeremy Bortz to enliven patient areas at Toronto General and Toronto Western Hospitals with unique, colourful paintings and raise much needed funds for life-saving care and research. For every $1,000 donated toward the Colours of Life campaign, an original painting created by the artist will be placed in prominent patient areas.

“Our father was passionate about art, and I believe he devoted as much time to the pursuit of beauty in the arts as he did to the hospital,” said Adrian.

The R. Fraser Elliott Society was established to commemorate the legacy of R. Fraser Elliott as a generous donor and the inaugural Chair of the Board of Directors following the merging of the two hospital foundations. Continuing the Elliott family tradition, Jordan, Lyne, Ann and Adrian Elliott are all active members of the R. Fraser Elliott Society through their personal commitments of gifts and volunteer time.

Launched in November 2006 by the Honorary Patron of TG&WHF, Her Royal Highness, The Princess Edward, Countess of Wessex, the Society recognizes and involves donors making gifts of $1,000 to $9,999 annually or $10,000 to $99,999 cumulative lifetime. Members of the society enjoy special events, hospital tours and reports on their gifts at work.

Donald Jeune Matthews recognized for his dedication to complex care

On October 27, the Foundation welcomed guests to the dedication of the Donald Jeune Matthews Complex Care Clinic at TGH, a space dedicated to the care for patients with multiple health problems.

Recognizing Mr. Matthews’ commitment to improving the lives of complex care patients, the event celebrated the establishment of the Matthews Fellowship in Complex Care, with Mr. Matthews’ gifts made in honour of Dr. Michael Baker.

Celebrating the Leo and Sala Goldhar Medical Imaging Lounge

The night of November 15, was cause for celebration at Toronto Western Hospital – specifically, the dedication of the Leo and Sala Goldhar Medical Imaging Lounge.

Following years of support, medical imaging is the latest area that the Goldhar’s generosity has focused on, promising to push UHN’s world-leading program to further levels of achievement.

Utilizing such techniques as radiation, magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) and sonography to gather images of the body for use in research and surgery, the Medical Imaging Program is renowned for its pioneering work in the field. Recent achievements in medical imaging have given UHN even greater capability to provide patients with the safest, most effective surgical treatments, accompanied by less discomfort and a quicker return to normal life. They also provide an optimal environment in which surgical leaders at UHN can develop highly specialized skills.

Among those expressing their gratitude at the event was Dr. Karel terBrugge, Chief of Neuroradiology at TWH. “We are honoured to have the Goldhar name associated with medical imaging,” exclaimed Dr. terBrugge. “We look forward to many more successes with the Goldhars and the Toronto General & Western Hospital Foundation.”
Ensuring continued excellence through legacy giving

Board Member establishes first Donor Advised Fund

Jim Leech has been involved with TG&WHF for over 15 years, and was the first to establish a Donor Advised Fund following the launch of the program last fall.

A Donor Advised Fund is an endowed fund held by TG&WHF and is a convenient, cost effective alternative to creating a private family foundation to oversee charitable giving. A contribution of $50,000 or more is invested and endowed in perpetuity. Interest earned from the fund each year is made available for granting to TG&WHF or other charitable institutions, as directed by the donor each year.

The Jim Leech Family Charity Fund will support a number of hospital programs as well as Queen’s University.

“This is a great option for making a gift because we can direct where the funds go and it offers an easy and tax effective way to establish a family legacy of charitable giving and continue that tradition with our children,” said Jim.

Tireless advocate for liver disease has a tradition of giving

Dr. Jenny Heathcote, who grew the Francis Family Liver Clinic into a national leader over the past 30 years, is one of the first UHN doctors to leave a legacy gift to TG&WHF. Believing that philanthropy starts at home, Dr. Heathcote, who holds the Francis Family Chair in Liver Research, has asked that a fellowship be created through a bequest in her will. Her decision to leave a future gift reflects her interest and dedication in working with young physicians and stimulating their interest in academic medicine, particularly in the field of liver diseases.

Dr. Heathcote founded the Liver Clinic in 1979 and led its development until 2005, when more liver specialists joined her team.

“The Clinic has a wonderful history, but we must keep thinking of the future,” said Dr. Heathcote. “My hope is that new generations of liver specialists will be trained through this gift.”
Nursing leader ensures support for many years to come

Evelyn Hall has a long history with Toronto General and Toronto Western Hospitals. A nurse, Evelyn spent much of her career at TWH and served as its Chief Nursing Officer. She also was the former Chief Operating Officer of The Toronto Hospital. In 1991, Evelyn established the Evelyn Hall Education Award which funds nursing scholarships.

Her husband, Dr. Gordon Robertson, has made his own legacy gift to TG&WHF that will support the Movement Disorders Program at the Krembil Neuroscience Centre. Dr. Robertson specialized in hematology and oncology and served as the Head of Palliative Care at North York General Hospital.

“If you give your heart and soul and feel pride in a hospital, you want to help,” said Evelyn. “You don’t just stop giving back. Just because we won’t be here doesn’t mean the need is gone.”

Scholarship honours memory of Charles and Anne Dubin

In many ways, they were the original “power couple”: Charles Dubin, a former Chief Justice of Ontario and his wife Anne Ruth Dubin, who had a distinguished legal career. Anne had a proud history with the hospital, including being the first woman to serve on the Toronto General Hospital Board in 1972. She was also a member of the TG&WHF Board between 1986 and 1996.

The Dubins were long-time supporters of TG&WHF. Sadly, Anne passed away in 2007, followed by Charles in 2008. It is a fitting tribute to their memory that the Honourable Charles & Mrs. Anne Ruth Dubin Scholarship for Nursing Excellence in Family Practice at TWH has been established through the Estate of Charles Dubin.

The scholarship will support the Family Health Centre at TWH with a special focus on nursing professional development.

“Charles and Anne Dubin were very special friends of Toronto Western and of our program,” says Centre Director Dr. Philip Ellison. “Their legacy will have great impact through the training of the next generation of family medicine specialists.”

Robert and Linda Krembil make a $30 million gift to support the construction of the Krembil Discovery Tower – a new research hub aimed at transforming neuroscientific research at Toronto Western Hospital.
A Tribute to Gerry and Tootsie Halbert

After years of organizing tributes and fundraising for others, Gerry and Tootsie Halbert were honoured with a celebration to recognize their years of volunteerism at University Health Network. A Tribute to Gerry and Tootsie Halbert was held in June in Koerner Hall at the Royal Conservatory of Music.

“Gerry and Tootsie have made a life out of giving back,” said Event Co-Chair Leo Goldhar. “And each in their way has made a difference. Giving and helping is really their life.”

To honour the significant contributions made by Gerry and Tootsie, the Krembil Family provided a lead gift of $2 million. Thanks to an outpouring of support from family, friends, colleagues and peers, a committee raised another $2 million to establish the Gerry and Tootsie Halbert Chair in Neural Repair and Regeneration.

“Gerry and Tootsie have always been the heart of the Krembil Neuroscience Centre and Toronto Western Hospital,” says Chair-holder and Krembil Neuroscience Centre Medical Director Dr. Michael Fehlings.

Dr. Fehlings is a world-renowned expert in spinal cord repair and his research focuses on the application of stem cell biology to repairing spinal cords damaged by disease and injury.

Co-hosted by Leo Goldhar and Dr. Michael Baker, the evening featured a full program of music and artistic performances, and was produced by Veronica Tennant.

First asked to get involved in fundraising efforts by Dr. Charles Tator, a close friend and former Head of Neurosurgery, Gerry has helped raise over $140 million for TWH since 1995.

In Gerry’s inaugural fundraising role at TWH, he served as a committee member for the Spark of Life Campaign, helping to raise over $21 million for spinal cord research.

Tootsie has been a champion of philanthropy in her own right. In addition to donating the sales of her exquisite jewelry designs “Creations by Tootsie” to the Krembil Neuroscience Centre, Tootsie has been an enduring friend of TWH.

TG&WHF Board Member and Surgical Innovation Champion Marc Muzzo has continued a popular fundraising tradition with the success of Motoamoré 2011.

Roaring over the finish line in June, the event raised over $375,000 for the Muzzo Family Surgical Innovation Fund at University Health Network.

The event was held at the old Downtown Porsche dealership on Front Street and included a car rally and evening celebration. Support from TG&WHF Board Members included a presentation by UHN Surgeon-in-Chief Dr. Shaf Keshavjee and the expert motoring skills of Richard Wachsberg, who joined the car rally.

Marc started Motoamoré in memory of his brother Rob Muzzo who passed away from cancer. It has grown from a gathering of friends, family and business associates, to the success it is today.

Marc is heading up the Surgical Campaign to advance new surgical treatments such as Guided Image Therapeutics.

Bay Street Hockey Tournament scores another win

Hockey players from Canada's financial industry laced up once again for the Bay Street Hockey Tournament – competing in the high calibre tournament while raising funds for the Adult Congenital Heart Disease Program at the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre.

Dr. Erwin Oechslin leads the world’s first and largest congenital heart disease program which serves as a national resource centre. With over 250 participants from a variety of Bay Street financial firms competing, the Bay Street Hockey Tournament has become a “must do” event for the financial industry. Over $120,000 was raised at this year’s event.

25 YEARS OF ADVANCING HEALTHCARE THROUGH PHILANTHROPY

Exceptional care and innovative research inspire fundraising events

TG&WHF is fortunate to be the recipient of a number of fundraising events inspired by grateful patients and their families. These events have enjoyed tremendous success and have evolved into annual traditions.

Cardiac Care
Golf for Heart Classic
The Foundation hosted the 7th Annual Golf for Heart Classic at Eagles Nest Golf Course in June. Inspired by the leadership of Dr. Harry Rakowski in treating complex cardiac conditions, the event’s Co-Chairs, consisting of Todd Halpern, Colin Halpern, Frank Luchetta, Marco Mancini, Jim McGovern and Robbie Pryde continue to produce a sell-out event year after year. Golf, live and silent auctions, great food and photo opportunities with a few exotic animals have helped the Golf for Heart Classic raise well over $640,000 for the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre since 2005.

Colon Cancer
Lew Dunn Annual Golf Tournament
In 11 years, The Lew Dunn Charity Golf Classic has raised over $2 million and has become one of the most successful fundraising events supporting UHN.

The Golf Classic funds the R. Lewis Dunn Scholarship in Colorectal and Oncologic Surgery, which has supported 11 individuals who have finished their surgical training and have chosen to specialize in the treatment of colon cancer.

Organized by the Dunn family and inspired as a memorial to the late Lew Dunn – a loving family man and passionate golfer who passed away in 1999 from colon cancer – the golf tournament has benefited over the years from the generous support of Aviva Canada as presenting sponsor.

The 2010 Lew Dunn Charity Golf Classic raised over $216,000 in support of surgical oncology education.

Philanthropy never looked so good was the theme of Catwalk Cure, an extravagant event held at Muzik in February that supported Dr. Michael Baker and the Complex Care program at University Health Network. With over 300 of Toronto’s business elite in attendance, the evening featured gourmet cuisine, fine wines, premium spirits and a spectacular fashion show, and raised over $150,000.

“Having recently lost my mother to cancer, I am directly connected to this cause and realize the importance of the Complex Care program,” said Event Chair Michelle Fidani. “Dr. Baker played such an attentive role in my mother’s care; he really exceeded the call of duty and I’m honoured to support his work.”

Kidney Disease
Greenfield Charity Golf Tournament

The Greenfield Charity Golf Tournament is organized by Benson Sy in gratitude for the care he received when he underwent a kidney transplant at Toronto General Hospital. He has been organizing the tournament for over 19 years to support the research of Dr. Carl Cardella, Director of the Renal Transplant Program. The event has raised over $100,000 for kidney transplant research at TGH.

Owner of Greenfield Golf Inc., Benson started the tournament the same year he started his business. He gathered a small group of approximately 30 golfers: mostly family members, close friends and staff of Greenfield Golf, and two foursomes led by Dr. Cardella, who has played every year since the beginning of the tournament.

Parkinson’s Disease
Parkinson’s Peloton

Paul Castonguay found a way to channel his love of cycling into a way to help people suffering from Parkinson’s – including his dad. “My dad is in an extended care facility suffering from dementia common to Parkinson’s patients,” says Paul. “It pains me to see how Parkinson’s has progressed with my father. I don’t want to see others suffer like our family – our goal is to find a cure.”

Launched in 2010, the Parkinson’s Peloton Campaign is a group of recreational and competitive cyclists with a goal to raise awareness about Parkinson’s disease and funds for Parkinson’s research. The group of cycling enthusiasts comes from across Canada and raised $24,000 last year. It is on its way to meeting its goal of $50,000 for the Krembil Neuroscience Centre and the Michael J. Fox Foundation.

Celebrating a surgical visionary

It was the birthday party of the year, when the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre and TG&WHF celebrated the 66th birthday of Dr. Tirone David. The combination tribute and "roast and toast" was held at the Four Seasons Hotel in November 2010. Hosted by Lloyd Robertson and Pamela Wallin, the evening featured a special performance by Howie Mandel, and raised over $4.3 million for cardiovascular surgery research.

Dr. David has performed more than 10,000 open-heart surgeries, taught hundreds of students, published more than 300 scientific papers and travelled the globe delivering lectures and demonstrating complex surgical procedures.

Dr. David’s dedication to his craft is recognized around the world. One admirer is Dr. Mehmet Oz, of television’s popular Dr. Oz Show. “Tirone has been a role model for me since I finished my training with him in 1993,” says Dr. Oz. “He is a spirited innovator whose contagious passion catalyzed a generation of surgical innovation.”

Grand Cru Culinary Wine Festival supports neuroscience research

In October 2010, 350 connoisseurs and gourmards joined some of the city’s most prominent scientific minds for Grand Cru Culinary Wine Festival, Toronto’s premier wine and food event chaired by Todd Halpem. The event raised over $1 million to support Dr. Michael Fehlings’s research at the Krembil Neuroscience Centre.

The event, in its sixth year, featured both local and international culinary talent, as well as some of the world’s foremost wine producers, and is hosted in private homes throughout the city. Each chef who participated generously gave their time, preparing sensational menus paired with rare wines, provided by wineries from around the world.

The newly opened R. Fraser Elliott Multi-Purpose Operating Room is double the size of a normal OR with state-of-the-art surgical, diagnostic and imaging capabilities.

The original foundation classic: the Legacy Golf Tournament

Raising over $150,000, this year’s Legacy Golf Classic supported Dr. Tony Lang’s research in Parkinson’s Disease and offered golf enthusiasts the opportunity to play at the prestigious St. George’s Golf and Country Club.

The Legacy Golf Classic was launched over 14 years ago, making it TG&WHF’s longest running signature event. Over the years, the tournament has raised over $2 million. This year, the proceeds will support a team of scientists led by Dr. Lang into the development of new methods of diagnosing early-onset Parkinson’s disease within the Edmond J. Safra Program in Parkinson’s Disease at the Krembil Neuroscience Centre.

Celebrating the partnership of arts and health

In May, Tafelmusik Baroque Orchestra and Chamber Choir, University Health Network and the Artists’ Health Centre Foundation hosted An Artists’ Affair: Celebrating the Partnership of Arts & Health, a unique fundraising celebration supporting vital investment in artists’ healthcare at the Al and Malka Green Artists’ Health Centre, Toronto Western Hospital and the artistic and artist training activities of Tafelmusik.

Gala Co-Chairs, Dr. Michael Baker and Jeanne Lamon, welcomed 400 guests to the second annual extravaganza, held at the Four Seasons Hotel. Sun Life Financial was the event’s Centre Stage Sponsor.

Veronica Tennant, An Artists’ Affair Artistic Producer, created a dynamic gala programme featuring performances and guest appearances by Tafelmusik Baroque Orchestra, National Ballet of Canada, Opera Atelier and several world-renowned musicians and vocalists. This year’s event raised over $325,000.
Over the past 25 years, Toronto General & Western Hospital Foundation has been fortunate to have inspiring and dedicated volunteer leaders. Here we look at the past 25 years through the exceptional Board Chairs who have seen the Foundation through some dramatic and expansive changes. Throughout the years they have had a common passion: to ensure the continued excellence of Toronto General Hospital and Toronto Western Hospital, and their research institutes.

R. Fraser Elliott
A Pioneering Leader
1986-1992

When R. Fraser Elliott became Chairman of the Toronto General & Western Hospital Foundation in 1986, his first challenge was to oversee the amalgamation of the foundations of the respective hospitals. He demonstrated finesse at this task and successfully created the basis of the Foundation as we know it today. His attention to detail, sense of fairness and superior collaborative skills guided the amalgamation of the organizations and ensured continued growth. He remained a trusted advisor to his board colleagues as well as the senior management of the Foundation until his passing in 2005.

The late Mr. Elliott's leadership is recognized through the naming of several areas within the hospital, including the building housing our Foundation offices. Our Emergency Centre, Multi-Purpose Operating Room and Dialysis Centre, all bearing his name, help provide hope and comfort to our patients to this day.

Mary Connacher
A Diplomatic Ambassador
1992-1999

In 1992, Mary Connacher succeeded the late R. Fraser Elliott as Foundation Chair. During her tenure, Toronto General and Toronto Western hospitals went through dramatic changes, including the creation of UHN. Mary also oversaw two major campaigns: Spark of Life in support of the neuroscience program at Toronto Western and the Cardiac Centre Campaign. Her work ethic and diplomacy were hallmarks of her tenure.

Following her term as Board Chair, Mary continued to stay involved as a member of the Foundation’s Nominating & Governance Committee and is Chair of the R. Fraser Elliott Society.

It has been 25 years since Mary joined the TG&WHF board. In her years volunteering at the Foundation, she has served tirelessly as the Board Chair, Chair Emeritus and as a Board Member. She will step down from the Board in 2011, having built a legacy of hard work, diplomacy and respect.
Bryce W. Douglas
A Champion For Change
1999-2004

When Bryce Douglas succeeded Mary Connacher as Foundation Board Chair, he had big dreams for the Foundation and for UHN. His passion, business acumen and dedication took the Foundation to a new level and made it one of the most successful philanthropic organizations in Canada. It was under his leadership that the Foundation, in conjunction with The Princess Margaret Hospital Foundation and the Arthritis & Autoimmunity Research Centre Foundation launched the Together We Make Life Better campaign. The campaign raised over $554 million, making it the most successful campaign in Canadian healthcare history at that time. He also helped guide the transformation of the Toronto General Hospital and Toronto Western Hospital sites through a major redevelopment program called Project 2003.

Bryce’s personal commitment to the Foundation has been demonstrated through his support of several programs, including Women’s Health, General Internal Medicine, and now the Arthritis Program.

David W. Smith
A Strategic Leader
2004-2009

Having worked with R. Fraser Elliott, Mary Connacher and Bryce Douglas, David W. Smith recognized the need to maintain the momentum of a campaign, but with more flexibility. His five-year term was marked by many significant Foundation ‘firsts’, including the launch of the ‘champion’ model where Board members, UHN leaders, and Foundation staff work together to match hospital priorities with campaign goals. David personally took on a champion role for the Vision Campaign. He also launched the first five-year strategic plan for the Foundation which has been integral to the Foundation’s financial success during a major economic downturn.

His integrity, corporate governance expertise and dedication to long-term planning has positioned Toronto General & Western Hospital Foundation as one of the most successful hospital foundations in Canada.

John Warren
Charting the Future
2009-Present

Now in his third year as Chair, John Warren has been associated with the TG&WHF for over 20 years. Bringing a distinguished career in the legal profession, he is a partner at the Toronto office of Borden Ladner Gervais LLP and is the Firm’s National Business Department Leader. He is also a member of the firm’s National Executive Committee.

Through the years, John has served on the Audit, Compensation, Investment and Nominating and Governance Committees. He is also a fundraising champion for the Asthma and Airways Campaign. From his wealth of experience with the organization, John is providing exemplary leadership through his dedication of considerable time and energy.

Operating Summary

For the fiscal year ending March 31, 2011, Toronto General & Western Hospital Foundation continued to experience growth achieving total fundraising revenue of $66.8 million. This is a solid increase of 18% over the prior year.

Direct Fundraising Expenses for the year totalled $4.9 M and represents 8.1% of Gross Fundraising Revenues. General Fundraising and Administrative Expenses are $5.1 M in the year and represent 8.3% of Net Fundraising and Net Special Events revenue. Both costs are at lower levels than in any of the past three years. The Foundation is committed to maintaining cost-efficient expenses in order to be accountable to our donors and to our primary grantee, University Health Network.

Grants totalling $54.7 million for charitable purposes were made to the University Health Network (UHN). This is the highest amount of grants for a single year in the history of the Foundation. Grants support research, patient care and education at UHN and include expenditures towards building & renovation and equipment. In particular, significant grants were made for capital projects including: the Krembil Discovery Tower and continued support for the redevelopment of the Peter Munk Cardiac Centre.

Though the investment markets were volatile in the year, the Foundation was able to generate solid returns while prudently managing risks to the investment portfolios. Investment returns (which represents interest, dividend income and realized & unrealized gains/losses on investments) were positive at $15.0 M for the year.

Overall, the total fund balances are $297.4 million in 2011 compared to $281.6 million in 2010. The growth arises from strong endowment fund revenues that offset the modest reduction in expendable restricted funds.

Overall, strong financial results were achieved in the areas of fundraising, cost-effectiveness, investment income and grants to UHN.

Endowment Funds

The Foundation’s Endowment Funds provide a consistent and important base of funding for research and education for UHN. Researchers and scientists seek long-term and stable funding to support their critically important work. Endowment Funds at March 31, 2011 totalled $164.9 million and include 250 individual endowment funds supporting chairs, professorships, fellowships, lectureships, awards and scholarships.

Investment Management and Philosophy

The investment goal for endowments is to preserve the purchasing power of funds on a long-term basis, while funding income distribution (“payout”) for fundholders. Therefore a balanced investment strategy has been adopted which involves investment in publicly traded bonds and stocks. The Investment Committee of the Foundation’s Board of Directors is responsible for the development and review of the Foundation’s investment policies as well as the selection of professional investment managers and the monitoring of the performance of these managers. Membership of the Committee includes leaders in the Canadian investment community.

Investment Performance

While the Foundation operated through the volatile investment markets found during the year, the Foundation’s endowment achieved an 8.5% return, after investment management fees. In addition to these positive results, the strong endowment fundraising revenue of $10.7 M was another significant factor that caused the balance to reach the highest amount in the Foundation’s history.

With all investment there is an element of risk, and the Foundation has always endeavoured to manage the endowment fund prudently. The Foundation will continue to monitor and review investment and payout policies in the context of the economic climate and the needs of UHN.

*Deceased
Donors

2010 - 2011

We wish to thank all individuals, corporations and foundations whose generosity has made it possible for us to continue our tradition of excellence in patient care, research and education at Toronto General Hospital and Toronto Western Hospital. We are pleased to list donors of $25,000 or more, cumulatively, since the Foundation’s inception in 1986.

If you would like to update your recognition name, please contact Stuart Heard at 416-340-3174 or stuart.heard@uhn.ca.

Thank you to all of our donors, who have given so generously.

The Upper Canada Medal, originally created by the Loyal and Patriotic Society of Upper Canada, recognized the service of volunteer soldiers in the War of 1812.

Recognizing an even greater need, the Society decided in 1829 to reduce the medals to gold bullion to pay for building the original Toronto General Hospital.

Today, we honour special donors by awarding these medals in recognition of distinguished philanthropic support.
